Moratorium To Deprive U. S. of $246,566,806 in Foreign Payments.

WASHINGTON, June 22 .- (P)resident Hoover's proposal of a debt oratorium presented a new financial roblem for the treasury today despite declining federal deficit.

a declining federal deficit.

With the end of the fiscal year close at hand and indications that the deficit will be nearer $850,000,000 than the $3050,000,000 forecast a month ago, the treasury faced the possible elimination of $246,566,806 in foreign payments next year due to the proposed moratorium.

Undersecretary Mills said, however, the Hoover debt holiday would be "a very good investment for the treasury if it turns the tide of business."

"Judging by the action of the principal markets of the world today, it is regarded as a favorable factor." he said. "If it does turn the tide it will be a very good investment for the treasury."

Mills believes an upturn in business would repay by increased tax collections the losses through foreign debts.

principal payments by foreign nations in 1932 also would be eliminated by the proposed suspension. Principal payments in 1931 made a $51,588,000 dent in the $16,500,000,000 total. At the close of business June 19, fiscal year expenditures of the government had reached $4,116,605,600 as compared with earlier estimates of a June 30 total of $4.435,000,000. Revenue had totaled $3,237,437,100 as against $4,076.316,100 over the same period last year.

He said in his speech he had given a great deal of thought to the prohibition question and believed that the "remedy" could be found if the question was resubmitted to the people of the United States.

"I would like for you to know how I feel about this important question." the mayor said. "I believe in temperance. If we could have a temperate people I would be in favor of prohibition or anything else. But I find that we have made a great mistake.

"Prohibition is utterly nil in keeping people from drinking. It cannot exist without corrupting national, state, and city life. I don't know the remedy, but I believe the people will rise to the occasion and find a solution.

"There is another bad side to prohibition. I was told by a friend in Mayor Key stressed his stand for temperance and moderation and warned against worshiping prohibition as a fetish, or considering it "as the ark of the covenant, as some do." He said some people considered prohibition so sacred that anyone who even thought of touching the law or molesting it was considered guilty of a crime.

"We need a resubmission of this law to the people," he said. "It was a war-time measure, passed with enthusiasm and patriotism, but it never has been submitted to a peace-time vote. We ought to call the sober, courageous forces of common sense to find a formula.

"Many people ask me for a remedy for prohibition. I do not know as asked concerning his statements abroad about prohibition. I do not know and canter Brooke Jones.

On arrival here today, Mayor Key had said concerning his statements abroad about prohibition. "I never said 'abominable. I have certainly been misunderstood. I attended only one party given for the mayors and a tatended only one party given for the mayors and tatended only half of that. I took sick right in the middle of it and was sent to the respital. And I remained sick the rest of my time in France."

Up stepped Mayor John C. Porter. of Los Angeles: he wanted to get that matter of whether he walked out when a toast was proposed to the president of France straightened out.

Said he: "I disapprove of drinking for reasons of my own. I left that the dinner before the toast was given because I thought the party was over. I strolled around the building for a war-time measure, passed with enthusiasm and patriotism, but it never that the party was over. I strolled around the building for a strolled around

"I'm against it."

Mayor Key said the character and temperance of the French were largely responsible for the lack of unemployment in France. "Let me say that I did not get a true conception of the French until I visited their country." he said. "Most of us think of the French as a nation fond of night life, a nation of 'good sports."

But there is not a more wholesome nation on earth. They are hardworking and home loving. Their character and their business ways and views have kept unemployment to a minimum.

JOWNER APPEALS CASE Roosevelt Club Organized By Franklin County Group

Hall County Leaders To Meet in Gainesville Tonight; Plans Formulated in Savannah.

ROYSTON, Ga., June 22 .- At an enthusiastic meeting in the courtpeals the record in the case of John Downer, Georgia negro, condemned to dist on the conviction of assault on a white woman at Elberton, Ga. He said the appeal probably would not be taken up until October.

He explained that the court was in summer recess which would last until sometime in October.

Attorneys in behalf of the negro are seeking a test of constitutional rights and the appeal was granted in a decision of Federal Judge Bascom S. Deaver, of Macon, Ga., who refused to grant a writ of habeas corpus for Downer when action was brought against B. H. Dunaway, Georgia penitentiary superintendent. The writ was sought on the grounds that Downer was being deprived of his liberty in violation of the constitution.

Troops were on duty during the negro's trial, and Downer's counsel contends the defendant was deprived of his constitutional rights in the circumstances under which the trial was held. house here Monday, Franklin county's Marketing Leaders Predict Improvement as Season Progresses.

VALDOSTA, Ga., June 22.—The south Georgia melon market has opened with "first cars" selling at a low level, though experienced melon marketing men believe that the low opening may mean a better average season.

In connection with this situation an official statement from the So-of the deal.

"Some say the prevailing market prices to date have been too high for them to go into consumption readily because of the depressed business conditions. This situation will readily adjust itself as soon as four or five hundred cars a day move to market.

"It is foolish for us to expect watermoleons to be any higher in prices than other products of similar nature. We must remember that all food products are cheaper than they food products are cheaper than they food products are cheaper than they were a year ago and especially is this true regarding fruits, melons and fancy vegetables.

"The drouth evidently aided and abetted the wilt bacteria, for reports indicate a heavier loss from wilt this season than has ever been known before, which further reduces the yield for this season. Reduced acreage and wilt damage should contribute to a higher market price level."

CONVICTIONS SOUGHT

IN LIQUOR ROUNDUP NEWARK. N. J., June 22.—(P)—
The United States government today began its effort to convict one of the largest groups of men ever indicted for conspiracy to violate the national prohibition act, in the case of the Atlantic Highlands rum syndicate.

The government, through District Attorney Phillip Forman, said the 59 men indicted comprised an efficient organization, operating with executive and other departments in the same fashion as a large legal business conducts its affairs.

Ships, trucks, radio station, and graft to officers of the law, the government held, each played a part in the conspiracy.

Looking At

Commencement Week 1946

That 1946 is not a printer's error. I am thinking of Commencement Week teen years hence, when that youngster of yours who is only two or three now, will be finishing high school and be thinking about college.

I wonder if he is going to be disappointed. A great many boys and girls are because their parents don't want to give them every chance in the world. but because things haven't turned out right, and when the time comes, there's no money for college. Wouldn't you be interested in a plan - simple and easy, but very sure, that will prevent anything like this nappening to your children? Wouldn't you like to plan now for a college education for those youngsters of yours —and begin paying for it now, on the installment plan?

If you start now, your boy or girl will not be forced to look for a job when Com-mencement Week, 1946 rolls round. You can start right now making plans, certain that they will work out. That child of yours can go to the college you select and have all the advantages you want it to have. There's nothing that pleases your Pacific Mutual underwriter more tran to talk about insurance for education uses. A post card or phone call will bring him to your home at any hour you indicate.

WAR REPARATIONS INCLUDED IN PLAN

WASHINGTON, June 22.—(P) It was said on the highest authority tonight that President Hoover's proposal for one year's suspension of war debts and reparations payments was designed to include the unconditional annuities paid by Germany.

The unconditional annuities are paid to France and Belgium to cover their cash payments in reconstruction of the areas devastated by the war. The amounts are over and above payments made by Bel-gium and France on their own war debts.

BY FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON. ight, 1931, by The Associated Press. WASHINGTON, June 22 .- (AP)-Bolstered by a worldwide response the American government today urged prompt action on its one-year debt oratorium proposal. Official eyes were focused tonight on hesitating France as a warning went forward that an immediate de-cision by the European nations was vital if the debt suspension plan was

The concensus among French diplomatic representatives, nevertheless, was that France would accept.

While the moratorium proposal developed at the White House with startling suddenness last week, it became known today it has been under consideration since June 5. It was entrusted to Secretary Mellon upon his departure from London a few days later and it was after Mr. Mellon conferred with British officials that the president called in the congressional leaders for their approval.

Because of the support pledged by both republicans and democrats in congress, there is little doubt in administration minds of the necessary congressional approval.

The president is emphasizing that

It was learned tonight that Senator Watson, of Indiana, the republicant leader, and Senator Harrison, of Mississippi, the ranking democrat or the finance committee, are coming to chapital at once.

It was believed they would confer with the president on the moratorium proposal. However, each has already approved it. The official representatives of Great Britain and Austria were enthusiastic in informing Secretary Stimson of their governments' favorable attitude. Sir Ronald Lindsay, the British ambassador, had a lengthy conference.

BRUSSELS, Belgium, June 22.—
(P)—President Hoover's war debt proposal was discussed today at a conference attended by Foreign Minister Hymans. Finance Minister Houtard and M. Gutt, Belgian representative at the Young conferences.

Further elucidation of the plan is awaited as the American suggestion seems in political circles not to take into account the special position of Belgium whose budget is based upon German payments.

The Young plan having become Belgian law, any modification of it will necessarily require new international negotiations and their approval through legislation, it is pointed out here.

ment announcing the war debt moratorium offer.

After proposing a one-year suspension of war debt payments to the United States, the chief executive said this was "conditional upon a like post-ponement for one year of all payments on inter-governmental debts owing the important creditor powers."

During the period of the proposed moratorium, Belgium would receive from Germany $24,400,000 in reparations and pay to the United States $8,000,000 on her war debt. Like France, the country recives an excess of reparations over war debt payments to finance reconstruction of the territory devastated by the war.

Belgian reparations receipts next year compare with $199,800,000 payments to France, $86,200,000 to Great Britain and $45,000,000 to Italy.

The number of nations concerned is considerable. As a result of the treaty of peace, Germany is making payments of reparations to several nations. As a result of post-war settlements of Germany's foes among themselves, having to do with reparations and also with moneys advanced by larger allies to smaller ones, there is an extremely intricate tangle of amounts payments.

It was expressed in almost frantic much of the spirit of crisis. A damper averted is often minimized in the memory of even a week later. Nevertheless the more hopeful fact is that three are strong men in all the European capitals who will put their shoulders behind the Hoover plan because they are convinced that acceptance of it, in the words of Paul Warburg, may mark the turning point in the economic disorganization menacing the entire world."

mouncing NEW PACKARD CARS

New in design · New in performance · New in luxury_

The new Continental models of the Packard Eight are now on display at our showrooms. You are cordially invited to examine them.

Old only in distinguished name, in adherence to the simplest principles of motor design, and in refusal to give up the characteristic beauty of line that has long spelled "Packard", the new Packards are new in everything else. Longer in wheelbase, wider in tread and with new frames! Such foundation changes make s a necessity through Bodies have been redesigned for greater beauty, strength and luxury. They are now most thoroughly insulated against heat, cold and noise. Freshly upholstered and trimmed, with new pillow-top cushions, their interior loveliness will appeal to all.

The new Vee radiator provides an identifying mark of smartness. The new bonnet houses a more powerful motor, floated in rubber, and one that only purrs in its quietness. Out of the richest experience in the industry, Packard continues to present the simplicity and economy of eight-in-line design and in doing this challenges any other type on any Outstanding among the many new features is Ride Control-shock absorbers adjustable from the dash to meet any road, speed, load or temperature condition. Now, instantly, you can have just the kind of ride you like best. At last, true luxury in motoring! Ride Control, the newest and most appreciated thing in motoring, is to be had only in Packard cars.

You will appreciate the four-speed synchro-mesh transmission as Packard builds it. You will marvel at the action of the Stabilizers built into the bumpers of the larger cars. You will enjoy, and we mean this most literally, the exploration of the new Packard for its many new features.

Again, come and see the new cars. Ride in them and drive them yourself and then compare them with all other cars. In spending your motoring dollar when dollars mean more, why not have the car of tomorrow instead of any car of yesterday?

Next Monday night, June 29th, Packard will present for the first time on the air GERALDINE FARRAR, famous Metropolitan soprano, beginning a series of Monday evening radio recitals in honor of its new cars. The Packard Eight is offered in thirteen beautiful body styles - the Packard Eight. DeLuxe in twelve. Prices at the factory range from $2485 for the Packard Eight Five-Passenger Sedan to $4550 for the Packard Eight DeLuxe Convertible Sedan for five.

What the buyer of a low-priced car has a right to expect today

Important things have been happening in the motor car industry during recent years. Progress has made rapid strides. Standards of quality have advanced. Features and advantages formerly confined to costly cars have been steadily brought down within the means of more and more millions of buyers.

Because of this progress, the buyer of a low-priced car has a right to

NEW YORK June 22.—Stocks forged ahead with undiminished vigor in today's assion as further news bearing upon American plans for relieving the critical European situation gave added impetus to bullish enthasiasm.

To what extent sentimental factors have played their role in distorting economic, as well as security market viewpoints recently, is also well illustrated by the electric effect of the government's debt move on the commodity markets.

Striking advances in cotton, grains and silver reflect the virtually overnight conversion from discouragement to revitalized faith. That the situation still contains elements of uncertainty may not be denied. At the same time, it is clear that pessamism has been shocked into a state of insensibility with results likely to have farreaching salutory effects.

NEW YORK, June 22.—The action of the world market, not alone cotton, indicate their decidedly oversold condition. A feeling that Washington's attitude on reparations will go far to atimulate confidence and add materially in the economic progress has encouraged the whole world. Cotton has advanced over 130 points from its low point, established on June 8, a little over two weeks ago in face of a world that was bearish and pessimistic.

This morning the cotton market, with Liverpool cables much higher than due opened strong with all cotton offered well absorbed. Shorts were egger to cover, Mild schack followed shortly after the opened strong with all cotton offered well absorbed. Shorts were egger to cover, Mild schack followed shortly after the opening but towards early afternoon bursing was again stimulated by a strong stock market and the failure of cotton to give ground.

Liverpool futures are due tomorrow, July 5.17; October 5.28.

NEW YORK. June 22.—Saturday's advance proved only the start of much wider gains which were carried out today. Stocks generally opened up well above their Saturday close on large volume and the tape was extremely active and ran several minutes behind during which a million shares exchanged hands.

Some reactionary tendencies developed from time to time during the day but in each case activity declined on the trading seiback and after a brief period of hesitation leading stocks renewed advances into new high territory.

It was of course noticeable that the largest gains and the greatest activity occurred in stocks which are popular trading favorites, particularly among the profession-fit in with President Hoover's general rehabilitation program.

After the market closed, however, authoritative word came from Washington that there had been no change of farm board policy and that Chairman Stone had not been summoned.

Wheat closed irregular, varying from 11-8 cents decline to 21-4 advance, corn 7-8 to 13-4 up, oats showing 7-8 to 11-8 gain, and provisions at a rise of 2 to 20 cents.

Rumors were persistent today that President Hoover was taking immediate steps to remove hearish effects of the big wheat surplus now in tha hands of farm board allies. Grain trade leaders urged in this connection that resulting higher prices on farm that resulting higher prices on farm products would bring about speedy general revival of business. Specific trade session that the farm hoard was expected to announce it would sell no more wheat this year hoisted the market to the day's highest figures. Crop estimates circulated indicated

Corn and oats fluctuated with wheat and came back strongly in the late trading.
Provisions went sharply higher with hogs, grain and stocks.

On a PAR with Severely Competitive Service

THEN a woman enters a retail shop, she wants courteous attention, reasonable assortment to choose from and prompt delivery ... if she cannot get these she goes elsewhere. In other words, she demands service

... that is why retail shops, department stores, groceries specialize in service. Gas and electric companies also specialize in service. While not under the same competitive necessity in all their activities, utilities provide service on a par with retail stores. This was brought out in a recent survey of 4,000 representative gas and electric customers residing in 79 communities of 5 states.

The question asked was:

"Which do you think gives you better service on the whole, retail stores or electric company; retail stores or gas company?"

Replies were: Retail stores 14.1% Electric company 15.2 Same 70.7 Retail stores 14.3% Gas company 15.3 Same 70.4

This favorable comparative showing of electric and gas companies is the more remarkable in view of the severe competition among retail merchants and the excellent service which they must give to win and hold customers. The good relations electric and gas customers have with their companies is also borne out by replies to other questions in the survey: 92% of electric and 89.2% of gas custheir dealings. 98.2% of electric and 97.6% of gas customers think the companies' managements good, excellent, or fair.

tomers consider the companies fair in 97.2% of electric and 96.3% of gas customers have satisfactory dealings with the companies serving them.

Satisfactory relations with customers and a rate of growth and prospects for growth that appear to be equalled by no other important industry, make sound utility securities attractive to investors.

The Associated Gas and Electric System, a major unit in the industry, has had a steadily mounting growth in gross and net earnings. During the last five years, the margin of earnings for interest requirements on an overall basis before depreciation has increased from 1.84 times to 2.15 times.

NEW YORK, June 22.—(P)—The bond market staged a general advance today in the most active trading since

Sales totaled $12,368,000 compared with $14,103,000 20 days ago when selling pressure was severe and a large number of issues reached their lowest prices this year.

The advance, which was regarded as part of the response to the plan of President Hoover for a one year moratorium on intergovernmental debts, appeared first in German obligations but it soon spread to other groups. The plan does not involve foreign government debts owed to private investors.

Foreign issues scored the widest gains and the advance in them was almost universal. Some of the most conspicuous advances were made by German 51-2s of 1965 and 7s of 1949 and the several issues of the German Central Agricultural Bank, Argentina, Chile, Berlin City Electric, Republic of Chile, Chile Mortgage bank and the States government obligations receded generally although trading in them was of moderate proportions.

QUAKER SAVINGS TO PAY DIVIDEND

Directors of the Quaker Savings Association authorized payment on July 1 of the regular dividend on the preferred stock, based on 7 per cent per annum, to stockholders of record as of June 20. The corporation pays dividends on the common stock on an annual basis. At present the Quaker Savings Association is expanding its operations by opening new offices in other southern cities. A Savannah branch will be opened on July 1.

For the first time in the history of the corporation the public is being offered part ownership. The balance of $500,000 in preferred stock, in addition to a limited amount of the highlyielding commen stock, is rapidly being bought up by local investors. Hamilton Douglas Jr., president, emphasized in his report to the directors the fact that for 10 years the corporation has paid dividends averaging more than 12 per cent annually.

NEW YORK, June 22 .- (P) - The curb market's rally acquired weight today as confidence increased on the strength of week-end developments in foreign affairs.

Until afternoon the advance was rather restricted, but during the later hours the rise acquired considerable buoyancy and although there was profit-taking at the close, final prices in most instances were not far from the highs. The turnover was 800,000 shares.

highs. The turnover was 800,000 shares.
Utilities had a prominent part in the movement toward higher levels.
Electric Bond and Share touched 44.14 and closed at 41. up 2.34.
Specialties were led by Aluminum of America, which soared to 138. The final quotation of 130 represented a gain of 8 points.
Oils lacked the vigor displayed last Saturday, but did well netwithstanding.

Youth of Today Merits Defense, Church Head Says

POCONO PINES, Pa., June 22.—
(P)—President E. J. Gallmeyer, of the Walther League of the Lutheran Church, in his address today to the thirty-ninth international convention of the league, appealed to young people to allow no one to hold them up to scorn for not being like the boys and girls of 1890.

Mr. Gallmeyer, recently appointed postmaster at Fort Wayne, Ind., defended the youth of today.

He attacked the "better-than-you" attitude developed by certain groups of "crepe hangers," who, he said, were continually on the alert to crush youth and develop in it an inferiority complex.

"There are only two types of works."

BRITISH SPEED FLYER ENTERS U. S. AIR RACES

CLEVELAND, June 22.—(P)—
The second fastest airplane flyer in the world, who has taken a plane 332.49 miles an hour, was announced today as one of the entries for the 1931 national air races here August 29 to September 7. He is Flight Commander Richard L. A. Atcherley, of England.

Invitations to leading fliers of foreign countries are being extended by Lieutenant Alford Williams, former United States navy pilot, who is speed king of the United States. Williams cabled that the British air ministry had approved Atcherley's participation in the American air classic, but did not signify in which event the Briton would enter.

Atcherley, who was a member of the victorious British Schneider cup team of 1929, has been topped in speed only by Squadron Leader A. H. Orlebar, who flew a plane at a speed of 357.72 miles an hour over a straightaway course.

CHARMING VISITORS ADD IMPETUS TO SOCIAL GAYETIES

Miss Paullin Is Hostess To Popular Young Belles

Society's interest is focused on the many charming visitors who are proving the inspiration for delightful informal affairs during the early summer and adding impetus to the alfresco gayeties so popular now. Miss Mary Vereen, of Moultrie, Ga., is the attractive guest of Miss Caroline Paullin at her home on Andrews drive and is being welcomed by numerous friends, for she has often visited here and was among the admired figures at the brilliant debut ball given by Dr. and Mrs. Edgar Paullin to present their daughter to society last fall. Another popular visitor who will arrive today to visit Miss Paullin is vivacious Miss Sue Johnson, of Lynchburg. Va., whose charms are inherited from her fascinating mother, Mrs. Allen Johnson, who was before her marriage Miss Bessie Lanier, of West Point, Ga., and a great belle during her young ladyhood. Miss Elizabeth Haynes, a blonde belle, who hails from Winston-Salem, N. C., is the guest of Miss Elizabeth Spalding at her home on Brighton road. Miss Haynes and Miss Vereen were central figures in the party at which Mr, and Mrs. Oliver Healey were hosts at the alfresco dinner-dance at the Piedmont Driving Club Saturday evening and continue to be feted informally.

Society's interest is focused on the many charming visitors who are proving the inspiration for delightful informal affairs during the early summer and adding impetus to the alfresco gayeties so popular now. Miss Mary Vereen, of Moultrie, Ga., is the attractive guest of Miss Carohine Paullin at her home on Andrews drive and is being welcomed by numerous friends, for she has often visited here and was among the admired figures at the brilliant debut ball given by Dr. and Mrs. Edgar Paullin to present their daughter to society last fall. Another popular visitor who will arrive today to visit Miss Paullin is visacious Miss Sueral Paullin to present their daughter to society last fall. C., is the guest of Miss Elizabeth Spalding at her home on Brighton road. Miss Haynes and Miss Vereen were central figures in the party at which Mr, and Mrs. Oliver Healey were hosts at the alfresco dinner-dance at the Piedmont Driving Club Saturday evening and continue to be feted informally.

Mrs. Martha Francis Douthit is being accorded cordial welcome by her host of friends, having arrived from New York city last week to spend a month with her mother, Mrs. Montgomery Francis, at the Georgian Terrace. She was accompanied by her 10-year-old son, Claude Douthit Jr., and these former Atlantans are renewing old friendships and making new friends. Mrs. Douthit is an attractive and greatly admired young matron, being of the blonde type, slender and willowy, and possesses many social graces and is an entertaining conversationalist. Another provided the party of t graduated from Princeton two years ago and since that time has been a member of the faculty of the Allahabad Agricultural College at Allahabad, India. During his residence in India Mr. Matheson has become closely associated with Gandhi. TALKING IT OVER BY CAROLINE CHATFIELD Problems of general interest submitted by readers will be discussed in this column. Correspondence invited. Your name held in confidence. Write Miss Chatfield, care The Atlanta Constitution.

I am in love with a girl who is wild. I didn't want to fall in love with a wild girl. I was anxious to settled my affections on a quiet, good girl who would marry me and make a cozy home. Do you suppose she is meant for me?

CORNELIUS.

ANSWER:

It depends entirely on your use of the word wild. If you mean the girl has no conscience and no sense of honor, then she will most certainly bring ruin on you. If you mean that she is full of animal spirits and restless energy she will probably make you the best sort of wife. I recall having heard the dean of a girls achool make the remark that it had been her observation that a girl of the latter class made the best sort of wife and mother. She has, you see, a super-abundance of physical energy and drive and once it is put in a proper and congenial channel it is capable of enormous power.

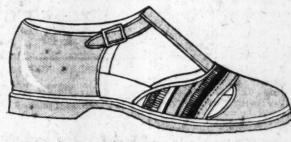

In reply to your question as to whether or not this particular girl was meant for you, I can only answer by saying that Providence endewed you with a brain and expects you to use it. A man may be unable to plumb the depths of a girl's disposition in the days of courtship but he can determine well enough if she is a girl of fine character and high sense of honor. A man who is studying a girl with reference to marrying her can certainly discover if she is the right sort or not. If she is not, marriage won't change her.

CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

In Bridge, when one side has a game on the rubber and a partial score on the second as well, the situation of the defending players is desperate. A policy of boldness is dictated by that fact. The defending players are in the same condition faced by the French armies in the early days of the World War, when Foch gained undying fame by his message "My right is being driven back, my left is retreating; I shall attack in the center."

The bidding was short, decisive and disastrous:

West North East 1NT(1) Pass (2) Pass 2NT(4) Dbl. (5) Pass Pass(6)

1—West's Opening bid is badly chosen. It violates the principle that when a hand contains a choice between an Opening suit bid and an Opening no-trump bid, the suit should always be preferred.

than the making of the rubber game.

6—It is too late to attempt to avert the impending debacle.

In the play North opened the heart Knave. He reasoned that South must hold honor strength in outside suits to justify his diamond bid and that West held the diamond King as a stopper in that suit. There seemed nothing to lose by this course. There might be much to gain. The Queen was played from dummy and South's King and West Ace were both played. It was a mighty drop of honors. West, King and West Ace were both played. It was a mighty drop of honors. West, as yet unaware of the extent of the disaster, started in to establish Dummy's long suit. It was making the best of a very bad bargain. He led the King of clubs. This was won by North, who took his 3 heart tricks, then led a small spade and South was in to lead diamonds through West's illy-guarded King. West put it up at once, and North and South took the remaining tricks, a total of twelve in all, for a set of 1800 points, not vulnerable. The price of an incorrect Opening bid and a rebid, equally unjustified, was rather high.

boys Tuesday night at 9 o'clock; 8 o'clock to you down there.

THIRD—The ring in which Young Stribling hopes to win the world's heavyweight championship was installed this morning. The ring is all ready, lacking only the ropes and canvas, which accoutrements will be installed the day of the fight.

FOURTH—You can't get a bad seat. For the first time in the history of a championship fight on a ballfield, all the ringside seats will be elevated. That fat man with the big noggin who keeps it right in your way at the movies, can't hurt you here. The method which the commission will use seems to be an admission of weakness. But then you know how boxing commissions are. Oh, you don't! Well, you're lucky.

They will agree with the fighters on five referees. The commission will then strike off two of them. This seems a bit foolish but they will anyhow.

The three men surviving will be taken to the ringside the night of the fight. Just before the match is to go on the three names will be put in a hat and one drawn out. He'll be the third man in the ring.

Stribling works Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday and Sunday nights, at 9 o'clock, eastern standard time. The same kind they, have in Athens, Ga., which means it will be 8 o'clock in Atlants.

Mac Smith makes a stand at Inverness next week makes a stand at Inverness next week in another desperate effort to crack the spine of the old hoodoo that has followed him for more than 20 years. It is a tough break to tie for a title when you are only 19 years old and then discover at the age of 39 that you are still outside the fold where the wild laurel blossoms. Mac Smith again had a great chance in the recent British open until he faltered over the last four holes. He had the tough luck at Carnoustie in his last stand to open fire with a 70-71 in the two qualifying rounds, which did not count in the championship. That pace burned him out. Few can keep shooting around that mark through six rounds.

Mac Smith still has the game to give any one a battle. He has

The Batting Lament.

"The boys who use the bats are squawking day by day," remarks an umpire in the National league. "The new seam has given the pitchers a far better grip on the ball and I have been looking at more fancy curve ball stuff than I have seen in some time. I have even seen a lot of sail balls. The new seam also helps control.

"As a result those taking a full cut at the ball are running into trouble. The pitchers are all giving three cheers, but the hitters are not."

The pitching race among Grove, Earnshaw, Walberg and Ferrell in the American league is a leading race. The three Mackmen have won 33 out of 39 games. Each started the week with 11 victories against two defeats.

Mac Smith still has the game to give any one a battle. He has one of the simplest and smoothest swings in golf. He is a swinger, not a hitter. He has a sound all around game and a style that is worth watching. He is long and straight. But the phantoms of too many failures in big championships have been chasing him through the years. He is beginning to wonder what will happen next. He has had so many rare chances, and always something has suddenly developed that meant one more defeat. Few realize the heavy nerve strain in golf through the stretch of an open. The bunkers reach out farther and they look deeper. The greens suddenly turn to ice and the cups look to be the size of a thimble. There is a deep yearning to steer the ball away from trouble, rather than hit in the old free way.

Every star in golf has suffered from this ailment. That final target is a terrific mark to shoot at, especially when the contestant realizes he can afford to make no more mistakes. Tension is the curse of the golf swing, and tension crowds in down the stretch through the accumulation of three days' pressure.

Mac Smith's best chance will come

Temp Davis Sinks Ace at White Links.

Temp Davis sank a tee shot Sunday afternoon on the par three 160-yard No. 8 hole at the John A. White municipal course for his first dodo. He was playing in a foursome with M. H. Hill Jr., C. B. Vick and Lason Dillard. Davis used a No. 5 iron off of three days' pressure.

Mac Smith's best chance will come when he throws aside his 20-year ambition to win and makes up his mind merely to play four rounds of golf and let fate and nature have their and let fate and nature have their way. But that isn't as easy to do as it might seem. In fact, it is almost an impossible plan. Yet it would give him the best chance he has ever had—just to turn that free, smooth swing loose and see it work as it can work under normal conditions. Russell Bridges Sr. defeated Dr. E. G. Ballenger, the medalist, 2 up, on the Druid Hills course during the week-end to win the president's trophy tournament of the club. W. C. Spiker defeated Joe Horacek Jr., 2-1, to win the second flight title.

A spectacular rally on the last five holes enabled Bridges to win. He was two down at the 13th but soon squared the match and forged into the lead at the 17th.

W. L. COULD GO

Only Drying Out, Refining Needed To Get Challenger Ready.

By Robert Edgren.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 22.—"I weigh 180 stripped," Young Stribling said as he stretched comfortably out on a couch at his training cottage aft

That ought to give a line on Stribling's condition. He came up here after a period of training in the south that has put him very near his best fighting weight. Unlike the old-timers who sometimes lived rather carelessly between fights, this Georgia boy does not need a lot of training anyway. Physically and mentally he is in the condition that Theodore Roosevelt used to describe as "clean as a hound's tooth."

IN GREAT SHAPE.

I cam say that I've very seldom seen a fighter in better trim than he is today, less than two weeks before the battle for a world's championship.

All he needs is the last few days of drying out, the refining that puts nerves on edge for the greatest speed and muscles in trim to carry on under all the strain of battle without tiring. Stribling could step into the ring to do his best with four days more, if that was necessary. He has nothing to learn about boxing. He knows all about Schmeling and how to fight him. He has been studying that out and he isn't worried. There have the times when Stribling showed. in: double plays, Verges to Critz to arges to Hornsby: left to arges to Hornsby: left to Arges to Hornsby: left to English to English to Hornsby: left to English to Horns

GARDONEA, Riviera, Italy, June 22.—(P)—Kaye Don, British motorboat racer, arrived here today for another attempt to break the world's speed record in his boat Miss England II.

He probably will make his first attempt early in July.

SYSTEM WORKS.

There has been some discussion about whether "W. L." wouldn't be better off if he trained in rougher surroundings instead of with the whole family group in his camp. But I don't know. The rough and rugged preparation might be better for some fighters, but Strib seems to have done fairly well in his own accustomed way. He can be rough enough when the time comes, as his record of a

W. L. and I sat down and talked W. L. and I sat down and talked about the fight, and other fights. Stribling doesn't boast or knock. He is a bit like Dempsey. If he can't say a good word about anyone he keeps still. He expects a hard fight, and will be ready for it. Yes, he trained into preity good shape before coming up. He didn't fly. His airplane, wrecked in a stormy landing in Texas is at the factory, repaired but not to be used until after July Fourth.

in Texas is at the factory, repaired but not to be used until after July Fourth.

He loves flying. Now, he didn't fly unside down over Sharkey's camp and dived into a dip close to the ground to get a look at him. Flying is the greatest sport he knows. Except, perhaps, outboard racing. He just got one of the fastest outboard motogs built and is anxious to try it outafter the fight. He likes fighting.

I asked him how many times he fights. "Noe the saked the saked thanks for this wonderful drive," he said studiously, expressing himself in a manner he considered fitting to the circles in which he now moved. Gaigern—who had chosen very plain fare, an egg on spinach—made light of the obligation. "It amused me," he said. "It was your first experience and it's so seldom you find any one who experiences something for the first time."

"But you do not give one the impression of being blase yourself, if I may say so," Kringelein replied very aptly. He was quite at home in his snew clothes and in his silk shirt. He sat and he ate in a different manner and this thin hands emerging from the cuffs of his shirt gave him particular satisfaction. They had been manicured that morning by a pretty girl in the hotel basement.

"Good Lord! I blase!" Gaigren said delightedly, "No, certainly not. thely, a man like me has a full life." He had to smile. "Though you're right. There are things that even a man like me experiences for the first time—funny things," he added to himself. There are things that even a man like me experiences for the first time—funny things," he added to himself. The clenched his fine teeth softly together and thought of Grusinskaya. He was devoured by impatience for the moment when he should have her in his arms again with all her tender need of him and hear again the sad twittering notes of her bird-like voice. He gave himself three days, inwardly fretting with impatience, in which to raise the few thousand marks that would keep his associates quiet and enable him to set off for Vienna. TARZAN AT THE EARTH'S CORE No. 20

Three or four of the Sagoths hurled well-aimed cudgels at the saber-tooth tiger's face, at intervals so nicely timed that the great beast could do nothing but fend off the missiles as they sped toward him. And while he was thus occupied, other gorilla-like creatures who had already cast their clubs, sprang to the ground and retrieved them with an amazing agility and quickness. The risk they thus took showed great self-confidence and high courage, since often they were compelled to snatch their crude clubs from almost beneath the claws of the saber-tooth.

pattered and bruised, the great cat gave back inch by inch. Finally, unable to stand the fusillade any longer, he suddenly turned tail and bounded into the underbrush. After the sounds of his crashing retreat had died away, the gorilla men leaped to retreat had died away, the gorina men seaped to the ground and with heavy fangs tore at the thag and feasted awhile. Then they re-set the trap that had caught the Ape-Man and started away with their prisoner. As they moved along the trail Tarzan had a chance to observe them more close-ly. He saw they walked erect like men but in most other ways were very like the great apes of

Here's the Answer to the Problem:

Inspector Killian, played by Jack Holt boarded the Subway Express 18 minutes after the crime was committed. The inspector learned the train had made 18 stops averaging 20 seconds each and that the express ran at the rate of 55 miles per hour.

Inspector Killian discovered the crime was committed eleven miles back of where he boarded the train.

After going but a short distance the Sagoths stopped beside a hollow log, the skeleton of a great tree that had fallen beside the trail. One of the creatures tapped upon the log with his club—one, two; one, two; one, two, three. After a moment's pause he repeated the same tapping. Three times the signal boomed through the jungle. Then the signaler paused, listening. Others stooped and put their ears against the ground. Faintly through the air, more plainly through the ground, came the answering signal. The creatures seemed satisfied and climbing into the trees settled themselves comfortably, as though awaiting some thing or Because his hands were bound behind him, Tarzan could not climb unassisted. So two of the Sagoths carried him easily aloft with them. Not once had the Ape-Man spoken during the march but now he addressed the creature nearest him, who appeared to be a leader. "Remove the bonds from my wrists," he said, "I am not an enemy." For a long time the Sagoth glared unblinkingly at the prisoner. Then he commanded: "Take them off." But this order was instantly challenged by off." But this order was instantly challenged by another brute. Before the question was settled there occurred such a battle royal that Tarzan watched in fascination its utter savagery. FINANCIAL

BIG GERMAN LOAN.

A series of economic developments is expected to follow acceptance of the Hoover plan with regard to war the Hoover plan with regard to war debts. It was reported in important quarters in the financial district that plans are in the making for a $300,000,000 loan to Germany, the proceeds to be used for the purchase of raw materials produced in America and badly needed by the Germans. A substantial portion of this money, it was further stated, would be used for the purchase of copper metal.

BOROUGH FIGHTS ONE-MAN CAR SUI

Answer Filed in U. S. Court; Hearing Is Set for Next Monday.

The borough of Atlanta Monday moved to dismiss the suit brought by the Georgia Power Company in federal court in which an injunction to restrain interference with one-man street cars is sought. The city's answer, filed by City Attorney James L. Mayson, denies that constitutional questions are involved or that the city has acquiseed in the operation of city has acquiesced in the operation of one-man cars for the last five years. The answer is signed by Acting Mayor G. Everett Millican. The power company's petition for a tem-porary restraining order will be heard by Judge E. Marvin Underwood next londay.

No mayor or general council prior. to 1931, when the present administra-tion took office, had power to bind the present administration, and mu-nicipal acts of omission or commission prior to this year cannot bind the present mayor and council, ac-cording to the city's answer to the power company's charge that the bor-ough has acquiesced in operation of the one-man cars.

The city's answer denies the power company's claims of beneficial results from operation of one-man cars and from operation of one-man cars and charges that the power company continues to exact the same rates it obtained from the public service commission when grounds for the increase were involved high costs of labor and material. "These conditions no longer exist, but the exorbitant fare exacted from the public continues," the city alleged.
